

Dr. Alan Ahearne
Economist
NUI Galway

Dr Alan Ahearne, Economist, NUI Galway and Member of the Central Bank of Ireland Commission.

An economics lecturer at NUI Galway, Alan is also a Member of the Commission (Board) of the Central Bank of Ireland and is a research fellow at Bruegel. Alan served as Special Adviser to the former Minister for Finance Brian Lenihan from March 2009 until March 2011.

Previously, he worked as a Senior Economist at the Federal Reserve Board.

Alan holds a Ph.D. in economics from Carnegie Mellon University.