

Adiance Technologies Private Limited

A provider of VoIP billing, call center, voice and video conferencing solutions.

The product: Adiance has launched 1 videoConference alpha, an Open Source Web2.0 Video Conferencing Software for Asterisk.

The innovation: The "1 videoConference," state-of-the-art Open Source, VVoIP product is a Web/telephone-based multi-point collaboration platform supporting audio/video conference, desktop-sharing, presentations etc.,. The product has found a place in verticals such as Healthcare, Government, Telecom, Corporate, NGOs, Education, Online Video Services, among others. Organizations in these segments have been able to carry out multi-party video conferencing using inexpensive and non-proprietary Video and Voice over IP technology, without leaving any footprint on the user system.

Customer speak

"Rather than trying to explain things on the phone to my customers, now I can let them see me talk as I go through a slide show that illustrates every last detail I am trying to explain... I love 1VideoConference!"
