Sumit Dhar

Senior Director & Head of Information Security and Risk Management Edgeverve (Infosys)

Sumit is the Senior Director & Head of Information Security and Risk Management at Edgeverve (Infosys). He has extensive experience in leading large Resilience, Risk & InfoSec programs. He specializes in building world class service lines from scratch, creating high performance teams and driving business objectives via the Information Security programs.
In his current role at EdgeVerve, he is responsible for product and enterprise security. Prior to EdgeVerve, he was with HP where he conceptualized and developed the Resilience, Risk & Infosec consulting service from scratch to a multi-million dollar practice.
Sumit is also the adjunct faculty for Cyber Security at IIIT-B. He has been invited as a speaker at various large global conferences, seminars and summits. His articles on security have appeared in various reputed international journals and he is the author of multiple books, one of which is an Amazon bestseller.