

Ashutosh Singh

Sr. Director, Product Engineering,
Optum

Ashutosh is currently leading public cloud and Blockchain efforts at Optum Global Solution (OGS). In his stint at Optum, he has worked in different capacities, including engineering lead, architect and agile coach. Prior to this, Ashutosh has worked with start-ups and product organizations, building commercial software products and open source tools. He has been part of engineering transformation and leading new technology trends across different industries, including e-commerce, transportation, healthcare etc. Ashutosh holds a bachelor of engineering in production from Nagpur University and Executive Leadership Pro. He is passionate about new technologies and trends, and enjoys working with engineers and solving problems. His other areas of interest include photography, automobiles, travelling, music, nature, fitness & sports.