

Manojit Bose

Senior Director- Smart Cities, Domestic IT and eGovernance
NASSCOM

Leading the Smart Cities Initiatives and Domestic IT & eGovernance practice under the guidance of NASSCOM Smart Cities Task Force and NASSCOM Domestic Council, comprising of industry leaders as its members.

Co-authored the NASSCOM report, titled, “Integrated ICT and Geospatial Technologies Framework for the 100 Smart Cities Mission”. This report developed on the request of MoUD with extensive industry consultation, attempts to demystify the role of technology in various city domains and sub-domains

Led engagements with various Municipal Commissioners and State Urban Development Secretaries in driving focused Smart City Solutions Workshops. Recent engagements include those with Government of Tamil Nadu, West Bengal, MP, Karnataka and city governments like Pune, Indore, Vadodara etc., amongst others.

Member of the BIS Sectional Committee on Standards for Smart Cities and Convenor of the ICT subcommittee.

Led the engagement with industry members, DSCI and NCSC, Government of India in developing the Cyber security framework for a Smart City. It has been issued as an advisory by Ministry of Urban Development to the shortlisted smart cities

Led the development of DARPG report, titled, “Transforming Governance: A decade of eGovernance and next wave of governance reforms” which analyzes the efficacy of eGovernance in governance transformation in the last decade and recommends a way forward

Leading the efforts and working closely with Joint Secretary (eGov)-DeitY, Department of Expenditure, and Industry members in carrying out the much needed modifications in Model RFP for procurement of turnkey SI services by the Government, for eGovernance initiatives

Leading NASSCOM's Digital India efforts, under the guidance of NASSCOM's Digital India task force, with focus on Education, Tourism and Healthcare sectors. McKinsey is the knowledge partner of the task force for this initiative.