

Sheelika Ravishankar
Team Indus

Sheelika Ravishankar formulates and executes strategies designed to make the TeamIndus GLXP mission one of the most inclusive space missions ever, creating the niche and brand recall for TeamIndus. TeamIndus is amongst last 5 teams in the Google Lunar XPrize competition. TeamIndus is building a privately funded Spacecraft to land on the Moon, a mission planned for early 2018. She also enables the human capital function of the organisation through leadership, talent, performance and behaviour management interventions to deliver a successful mission and a leading- edge workforce for future space explorations. She has over two decades of experience across manufacturing and service industries, and is the founder of Chrysalides, an organisational development firm.

Designed to be inclusive and an open mission, TeamIndus is inviting everyone to join its #HarIndianKaMoonshot program.
